PPP Numb. 1637.

The Daily Courant.

Wedneſday, May 14. 1707.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated May 19.

Turin, April 30.

WE have Advice from Pignerol, that the 26th Inſtant a ſtrong Detachment of the Enemy came to la Colombina in the Diſtrict of Perouſe, plunder'd 4 Farm-houſes, and carried off all the Cattle; but that the Proteſtants of the Valleys drawing together in Arms, kill'd 20 of the Enemy, took 6, and recover'd the Booty. The French Troops that are retir'd out of Italy, took 24 of the Peaſants that had been very troubleſome to them in their March through Piemont, and deſign'd to carry them to Suza and hang them there; but the Marquis de Cavaglia Collonel of a Regiment of Horſe quarter'd at Alpignano, ſignified to the Prince of Vaudemont, that thoſe Peaſants were Subjects of his Royal Highneſs, that they were ſiez'd in his Dominions, and conſequently were reſponſible to his Juriſdiction only; that therefore they ought to be deliver'd up, that they might be puniſh'd according to their Deſerts; and hereupon they were deliver'd up. The French Troops committed great Diſorders between Creſcentino and Avigliana, deſtroying the green Corn on the Ground, and killing ſeveral Peaſants; ſo that they began to think at Court of treating them as Men that had broke their Capitulation; but the Enemy's Officers having Notice of it, took Care to excuſe what had paſs'd, by alledging that they were conſtrain'd to make Uſe of their Arms againſt the Peaſants, becauſe they had kill'd ſeveral Officers and Soldiers, and plunder'd part of their Baggage. Laſt Night a Detachment of 1000 Men, among them 200 Dragoons, were ſent from hence towards Rivoli. The Marquis de Trivie has Order to be going for Spain by the 3d of the next Month, in the Quality of Ambaſſador from our Duke to King Charles III; his Baggage will be ſent with a Paſſport by Land to Barcelona, but he himſelf will go by Sea thither from Genoa. Don Pedro Moraz is expected at this Court, as Envoy extraordinary from King Charles, and we hear he is already arriv'd at Genoa. The hereditary Prince of Heſſe Caſſel arriv'd here the 1ſt Inſtant from Genoa; and 'tis ſaid will continue here till our Duke goes into the Field. All our Troops are now recruited and conſiderably augmented: Very large Magazines erected in our Places that border on Dauphine are ſtor'd with Ammunition and Proviſions: And we expect to be joyn'd by the German Forces from Lombardy by the End of next Month at furtheſt. After which the Campaign will ſoon be open'd.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated May 21.

Turin, May 4. Three Camps are mark'd out for the Troops of the Allies, one near a Poſt call'd la Crava in the Neighbourhood of Coni, the other at Pavone near Ivrea, and the third in the Neighbourhood of Pignerol. The 8 Pieces of Cannon which our Duke is to furniſh to the French purſuant to the Capitulation made at Milan, will be deliver'd to the laſt of their Troops which are coming with their Sick from Creſcentino. To morrow our Court will go from hence to la Vigna, one of our Duke's Country-Seats, whither his Royal Highneſs is advis'd by his Phyſicians to remove for Change of Air.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, datad May 20.

Milan, May 7. We have Advice from Turin, that about 600 Peaſants having poſted themſelves in Ambuſh between Turin and Suza, ſiez'd and carried off the Baggage of the Prince of Vaudemont, of Count Medavi, and of M. Ordogna, who was the King's Lieutenant in our Caſtle: 'Tis alſo reported, that the latter was wounded. Complaint has been made of it to the Duke of Savoy. Count Taun is expected back here to Morrow from Turin. 5 Regiments of Foot, and 5 of Horſe, appointed for the Expedition to Naples, are on the March to joyn together at Final di Modena.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated May 20.

Suza, May 5. The Troops, which to the Number of 33 weak Battallions and 41 Squadrons arriv'd before this Place on Friday laſt from Italy, were muſter'd the next Day in the Preſence of the Marſhal de Teſſe by M. de Montgon. They reſted in our Neighbourhood till Yeſterday, and then march'd to the Quarters appointed for them between Embrun, Briancon, Oulx, and Glandeves. To Day General Medavy's Baggage was ſent from hence for Paris. The Enemy continue to threaten to beſiege this Town, but the Marſhal de Teſſe pretends he ſhall be able to fruſtrate their Deſign.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated May 21.

Vienna, May 7. Tho' Advice be come to Court, that the Swediſh Levies in the Emperour's hereditary Countries, as Bohemia and Sileſia, are a great Hindrance to the States of thoſe Countries in the raiſing the Recruits they are to furniſh to his Imperial Majeſty's Forces, yet Order is ſent to thoſe States to forbear doing any thing that may obſtruct the Swedes in liſting Men for the Service of their King. Baron Stralenheim, Envoy of Sweden here, has been offer'd Satisfaction by this Court for the Affront he receiv'd from Count Zobor ſome time ago: But he will not accept it, declaring he does not think what is offer'd ſufficient.

Dreſden, May 13. The 11th Inſtant the Councellors Imhoff and Pfingſten, King Auguſtus's Commiſſioners that ſign'd the Treaty of Alt-Ranſtad, were ſiez'd in their own Houſes, and 'tis ſaid were carried laſt Night to Koningſtein. The Swedes deny that General Leuwenhaupt has been beaten by the Muſcovites in Livonia, tho' ſeveral Letters have advis'd it. The King of Sweden and King Staniſlaus have taken Leave of each other, but when or whither either of them will march is yet a Secret. Some pretend to know, that the Papers which were taken about the Muſcovite Envoy in his Journey from Berlin through Sileſia have haſten'd the March of the Swedes, and made the King of Sweden alter his Meaſures. 'Tis reported as certain, that General Patkul will be beheaded before the Swedes march out of this Country. Order is ſent to all the Swediſh Officers that are out of Saxony, either raiſing Men or on any other Account, to return with all Speed to their Regiments. The Duke of Saxe-Eyſenach is come to Alt-Ranſtad, and the Duke Adminiſtrator of Holſtein is expected there, to wiſh the King of Sweden a ſucceſsful Campaign.

Berlin, May 14. The freſheſt Letters from Dreſden tell us, that the Saxon Regiments which were in Poland are come through Sileſia into upper Luſatia, and that 7 of thoſe Regiments are to march to the Netherlands under the Generals Wackerbaert and Mitkau, aſſoon as the Swedes have quitted Saxony. The Muſcovite Secretary that reſides here on the Part of the Czar, has receiv'd Letters from M. Iſmahilow late Ambaſſadar at this Court, importing that the Swedes had not only taken him Priſoner, but likewiſe treated him vilely, ſtripping him to his Shirt, and taking from him the Medals with which the King of Pruſſia had preſented him. His Pruſſian Majeſty has written a Letter to the Czar and to the King of Sweden, in which he exhorts them to Peace, and 'tis ſaid there is ſome Likelihood a Treaty will ſhortly be ſet on Foot between them. The

Czar's

Czar of Muscovy is at present at Lemberg, where he endeavours to perswade the chief of the Nobility of Poland to elect a new King, and to enter into a closer Alliance with him. His Troops are all drawing to the Vistula, where he designs to wait for the Swedes and venture a decisive Battle with them. A Body of 30000 Muscovites is encamp'd on the Frontier of Muscovy and Poland, to reinforce the great Army when it shall be judg'd necessary. The Muscovites under General Rhenne that were lately in the Polish Prussia, are mov'd up towards Warsaw; and great Magazines are making for them and the rest of the Czar's Forces in several Places on the Vistula. The War has made Money extreme scarce in Poland, and thin'd the Country of the People.

Hamburg, May 17. Letters from Poland advise, that all the Muscovites, even those that were in Courland and on the Borders of Livonia, are in Motion towards the Vistula, to form a mighty Army to fight the Swedes. They write from Saxony, that King Stanislaus and the Swedish General Reinschild will speedily march for Poland with 22000 Men. The Swedes in Saxony have receiv'd from Pomerania 64 Copper Pontons, each large enough to hold 30 Men.

At the Desire of several Persons of Quality.

A Thanksgiving Sermon occasion'd by the Union of England and Scotland, Preach'd at Hand-Alley May the 1st 1707. By Daniel Williams Minister of the Gospel. Printed for J. Lawrence at the Angel in the Poultry, price 1 d.

Telescopes of all Lengths made to the greatest Perfection, and so curiously adapted as to make Objects at the Remotest distance appear very near, and so conveniently contriv'd that a small one for the Pocket takes in a larger Angle, shows the Object fuller and nigher then the large common ones of 4 Foot long, by the assistance of which the Hour of the Day may be discover'd by such a Dial as Bow or St. James's above 2 Miles, and other Objects at 20 or 30 Miles distance proportionable. We do affirm it to be the pleasanteſt and usefullest Instrument of this kind, and that what our Adversaries have said against it is false and proceeds from an ill design; we have already offer'd to lay them 20 Guineas to their 10 that they could not make a better, but they knowing they were not capable to engage us in that particular, said in their Answer that there needs no more then to compare one Instrument with another, that they may have the opportunity of shewing that theirs exceeds; to which Proposal we do agree, and to that purpose have caus'd to be bought 3 of their best Telescopes, that we might be sure of one that was good, though they say in their Advertisement that they make none but the best, and we are ready to give our Oaths that no damage hath been done them since they were bought; and now to bring these matters to an end, we will lay them 20 Guineas to their 10 that 3 of our best of the same sizes are better then them; and any Gentleman that will may see the Experiment tried in an Instant at our Shop, where they may also see that our best Pocket Telescope comes not short of their best large 4 Foot one: And several other Curiosities all made to the greatest Perfection. And whereas Mr. Yarwell, Mr. Stirop, and Mr. Marshall have maliciously, falsly, and unjustly insinuated that we are but indifferent Workmen, several Persons being justly moved by that Scandelous Aspersion have offer'd to give their Oaths that they have often heard them say that we were the best of Workmen, and that we understood our Business as well as themselves: And as such we do each of us Challenge them all 3 severally to Work with them, who does most and best for 20 l. As for the Microscope it is our own Invention, and 2 of them were made by us before any Person saw them, as we can prove by Witnesses; as we also can their Railing and Scandalous Aspersions to be false. All Persons may be assur'd that all our Instruments do and will answer the Caracter given them in the Advertisements of T. Brandreth and G. Wildey at the Archimedes and Globe in Ludgate-street, and the second Spectacle-Shop above that which was Mr. Yarwell's.

By J Yarwell and Ralph Sterrop at the old Spectacle-Shop in Ludgate-street. Mr. Wildey and Brandith have the folly to believe that abundance of Words is sufficient to gain Applause and therefore throw 'em out without regard to Truth or Reason, but as that is an Affront to the Understanding of the Gentlemen that use the Goods they sell, such being Persons of Discerning Judgment, there needs no other Answer to what they have publish'd than to compare one part with another. They set forth with a Lying Vaunt that their Two Foot Telescope would perform the same that a common Four Foot one would do, and when 'twas reply'd that was false and a Four Foot one offer'd to try they poorly shift off with crying that's one of your best Four Foot one, now we profess to make none but best, the Glasses of every one being true Ground and rightly adjusted, and the difference in Price arises only from the goodness, Ornaments and Convenience of the Case, neither can he produce a Four Foot one of any Body's make that does not far exceed his Two Foot, nor does his Two Foot one at all exceed ours, and therefore the Lye which he is free with is all on his Side, and the impossibility in his pretensions as strong as ever, what we have said is Truth, and his foul Language no better than Billingsgate Railing. But it seems because we do not treat him in his own way, and decry his Goods as much as he does other Mens, he has the Folly to Construe it as an acknowledgement that his Excell. But we are so far from allowing that, that we do averr they have nothing to brag of but what they Learnt of us, and Brandreth was so indifferent a Workman that Marshall who had taken him for a Journeyman was fain to turn him off. The Secrets they brag of is all a falsehood, and the Microscope the same that any one may have from Culpeper who is the maker. We have already told the World that we will venture any Wager upon the performance of our Two Foot Telescope against theirs, and we would be glad to have it taken up that we might have the opportunity of shewing that ours Exceeds, and letting the World see that his brags are only such as Mountebanks make in Medicine. All sorts of Object-Glasses in the best perfection, Spectacles, Reading-Glasses, Telescopes of all lengths, Microscopes, &c. are Sold as usual at the Archimedes and 3 Spectacles, the first Shop of that Trade from Ludgate.
